

Master Data and Documents Replication Management

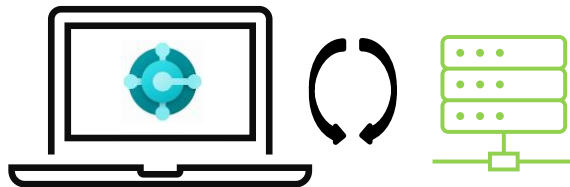

Microsoft Dynamics 365
Business Central

Overview

Master Data and Documents Replication Management extension for Microsoft Dynamics 365 Business Central enables the data transfer process through the group's branches and legal entities by setting up sets of data within a master company and replicating them to another company.

The application helps to create or assign a master company where all master data is maintained and select the receiving companies within the group. Moreover, it allows for master data and document exchange between more companies in a time-efficient manner.

Features

- Replicates/synchronizes master data attributes between companies in the same database or across different databases/environments via web services.
- Sets up an unlimited number of tables to be replicated.
- Allows same data table to propagate data updates automatically to same/different companies.
- Allows sending of data in linked master data tables when entry in original table is modified.
- ETL type processing: input and send specific data values for certain table fields required for different companies within the group.

Benefits

Master Data and Documents Replication Management is the right tool for multi-company organizations to maintain and easily exchange master data and documents with centralized management.
